

Things to talk and write about (2)

Which one piques your interest? Which one do you want to discuss? After talking about it, write about it. Can't decide? Choose a different one each day.

You're enjoying making sand castles at the beach, when the ocean waves wash up a message in a bottle. You pull out the message: What does it say?

Grammar:

- Sentences types: statement, exclamation, question and command
- Conjunctions to provide extra detail

Does your home have feelings? Is It grumpy, happy, or somewhere in between? How old is it? If it could tell a story, what would it tell?

Grammar:

- Use first person
- Vary sentence started
- Use adverbials to provide clarity about time and/or place

What happens on a superhero's day off?

Grammar:

- Organisational features e.g. bullet points
- Careful verb choice to provide precision, e.g. sit on sofa, laze on sofa, recline on sofa, sleep on sofa

Write about what it would be like to hang out on a cloud. Is it rainy? Is it soft? How big is the cloud, and can anyone join you?

Grammar:

- description: noun phrases, verb choice, adverbs and prepositions (all help to paint the picture of where you go)
- conjunctions to expand detail
- vary sentence starter so your reader sees what you see

What do you have in your pockets?
Make up funny reasons for those things to be there.

Grammar:

- description: noun phrases, verb choice, adverbs and prepositions (all help to paint the picture of where you go)
- conjunctions to expand detail

Would you rather be great runner or a great swimmer?

Grammar:

- organise your reasons
- use conjunctions to explain your choice
- compare and contrast

